HOW WE MAY USE AND DISCLOSE MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOU

The following sections describe different ways that we may use and disclose your medical information. For each category of uses or disclosures we will describe them and give some examples. Some information, such as certain genetic information, certain drug and alcohol information, HIV information and mental health information may be entitled to special restrictions by state and federal laws. We will abide by the more protective state and federal laws related to the protection of this information. Not every use or disclosure will be listed, but all of the ways we are permitted to use and disclose information will fall within one of the following categories:

Treatment: We may use or disclose medical information about you to provide you with medical treatment or services. We may disclose information about you to doctors, nurses, technicians, ambulance personnel, other health care practitioners or others involved in your care. For example, a doctor treating you for a broken hip may need to know if you have diabetes so that your proper medications, meals and treatments can be ordered. We may share medical information about you with Bon Secours Charity Health System personnel or other health care providers, agencies, or facilities not affiliated with Bon Secours Charity Health System in order to provide or coordinate your different treatments you need, such as prescriptions, lab work, and X-rays. We may also disclose medical information about you to people outside of Bon Secours Charity Health System who may be involved in your continuing medical care after you leave Bon Secours Charity Health System, such as other health care providers, transport companies, community agencies and family members or others providing services that are part of your care. We may disclose information about you to public health authorities to report births and deaths, report child abuse and neglect, or notify a person who may have been exposed to a disease or condition. We may disclose information for public health activities as required by law or in response to a valid subpoena, summons, court order, or similar process.

Payment: We may use and disclose medical information about you for payment activities of Bon Secours Charity Health System and other services involved in your care, such as an ambulance company. For example, we may use and disclose information so that Bon Secours Charity Health System or other involved in your care can obtain payment for services rendered to you. We may disclose your information to the Social Security Administration, or any other person or insurance or benefit payer, health care service plan or worker’s compensation carrier, or your employer (if we are acting as a dependent care plan). For example, we may give your insurance company information about surgery you receive at Bon Secours Charity Health System so they will pay us or reimburse you for the surgery. We may tell your insurance company about a proposed treatment to determine whether or not they will pay for the treatment or to resolve an appeal or complaint/grievance. However, if you pay in cash in advance for your treatment, and you ask us not to disclose your health information to your insurance company with regard to that treatment, we will honor your request.

Payment: We may use and disclose medical information about you for our health care operations and for certain health care operations of other providers who furnish care to you. These uses and disclosures are necessary to operate Bon Secours Charity Health System and to make sure that all of our patients receive quality services. For example, we may use medical information to review the quality of the treatment and services, to evaluate the performance of our staff, and to survey you on your satisfaction with our treatment and/or services. We may review and/or aggregate medical information to decide what additional services or health benefits you require. We may disclose medical information about you to a worker’s compensation carrier, or your employer (if we are acting as a dependent care plan) to determine whether the services are needed, and whether certain new treatments are effective. We may disclose information to doctors, nurses, technicians, students training with Bon Secours Charity Health System personnel or other health care providers, agencies, or facilities for review and learning purposes. We may combine the medical information we have with medical information from other health care entities to conduct research. We may disclose information about you to Bon Secours Charity Health System or others involved in your care and services we offer. Bon Secours Charity Health System may disclose medical information to private accreditation organizations, such as The Joint Commission, in order to obtain accreditation from these organizations.

Business Associates: We may share your medical information with third-parties referred to as “business associates”. Business associates provide various services to or for Bon Secours Charity Health System, such as billing services, transcription services and legal services. We require our business associates to sign an agreement requiring them to protect your information and to use it only for the purposes for which we have contracted for their services in an effort to make sure your medical information is appropriately safeguarded.

Fundraising Activities: We may contact you to provide information about Bon Secours Charity Health System-sponsored activities, including fundraising programs and events. You may request to “opt out” of fundraising communications if you do not wish to be contacted.

Hospital Directory (Hospital Only): If you are hospitalized, we will include your name, location in the hospital (for example: room number or emergency room), your general condition (for example: fair condition, stable condition, etc.) and your religious affiliations in the hospital directory. The directory information, except for your religious affiliation, may be released to people who ask for you by name, family, friends, healthcare worker’s clergy and medical staff. If you do not want us to disclose your condition or location, you must tell your caregivers so that we do not disclose your information about you. It is up to you to provide your religious affiliations in the directory. If you do not want us to disclose your religious affiliations, you must tell your caregivers so that we do not disclose your information about you. Research: We may use and disclose medical information about you for certain research purposes in compliance with the requirements of applicable federal and state laws. All research projects, however, are subject to a special approval process, which establishes parameters to ensure that the information will continue to be protected. When required, we will obtain a written authorization from you prior to using your health information for research.

This includes, but is not limited to, disclosures to mandated patient registries, including reporting adverse events with medical devices, to prevent a crime, to report child abuse and neglect; to notify a person who may have been exposed to a disease or condition. We may disclose information for law enforcement purposes as required by law or in response to a valid subpoena, summons, court order, or similar process.
